

The image shows a large, arched interior space, possibly a dome or a large hall, completely covered in a vibrant blue fabric. The fabric is draped and gathered, creating a textured, liquid-like appearance. In the center of the space, there is a circular platform, also covered in the same blue fabric. The overall atmosphere is surreal and artistic. The title 'LIQUID SPACES' is printed in large, bold, yellow capital letters across the upper middle of the image. Below the title, the subtitle 'Scenography, Installations and Spatial Experiences' is written in a smaller, yellow font. At the bottom center, the publisher's name 'gestalten' is visible in a yellow, lowercase font.

A striking, sinuous retail and design studio appears within the headquarters of a textile company. The flexible and organic layout promotes easy access to the entire space. Freeing the actions of sitting, working, leaning, meeting, and observing, the unique and gracious design diversifies user interaction inside the room. Curvilinear forms appear on both the ground and ceiling, supporting fluent and flexible movement. These planar cut-outs, defined in wood and concrete, develop two main platforms of activity: one at ground level and the other sunken below grade. These carved-out areas integrate multipurpose features including built-in seating, storage and more. ■
